

Descubre el español con Santillana

Mi primera Antología (Anthology Level K)

An adaptation of the Fountas and Pinnel leveling system, from The Continuum of Literacy Learning

Leveling Criteria

Print Awareness, levels A-C: The text in these units relies primarily on illustrations and is short and repetitive. This text is ideal for students who are not yet able to decode and need exposure to phonological and print elements.

Decoding, levels C-D: The text in these units introduces more content as well as dialogue and other parts of speech. This text is ideal for students who are beginning to apply their word-recognition skills as well as their knowledge of letter-sound relationships.

Reading, level D: The text in these units relies on the carefully scaffolded skills and vocabulary from the previous levels to introduce students to longer and more complex sentences. This text is ideal for students who can now decode and express comprehension in a more structured way.

| Mi primera antología (Anthology Level K) |                 |          |         |
|--|-----------------|----------|---------|
|  | Print Awareness | Decoding | Reading |
| Unit 1                                   | A               | C        | D       |
| Unit 2                                   | A               | C        | D       |
| Unit 3                                   | B               | C        | D       |
| Unit 4                                   | A               | C        | D       |
| Unit 5                                   | B               | C        | D       |
| Unit 6                                   | C               | D        | D       |
| Unit 7                                   | B               | D        | D       |
| Unit 8                                   | C               | D        | D       |