BISAC: JUVENILE FICTION / Humorous Stories

A collection of twenty-six stories by Gianni Rodari. The stories in this anthology combine humor, imagination, and fantasy, while offering us a critical and ironic vision of today's world.

This edition of The Happy Prince and Other Stories includes four wonderful stories by Oscar Wilde: The Happy Prince, The Selfish Giant, The Star-Child and The Devoted Friend. Oscar Wilde writes about love and friendship, selfishness and their consequences, good and evil and the courage to do the right thing even if it means risking your life, and the rewards of noble acts.

BISAC: JUVENILE FICTION / Fairy Tales & Folklore – Anthologies

Eight stories that immerse children in the storytelling tradition that has inspired generations, without losing any of the validity or the charm held by water that heals the sick, the table that gives banquets, the princes that ride along golden paths, and the apple trees that grow golden fruit. This anthology includes The Brave Little Tailor, Hans in Luck, The Table, the Donkey, and the Stick, The Water of Life, The Six Servants, The Devil with the Three Golden Hairs, Snow White and Rose Red, and Rapunzel.

Could there be a book where humor, the nonsense and the absurd happily coexist with fantasy, feelings and reflections? Renowned Argentine author Luis María Pescetti surprises readers with a unique work, where each story is as distinctive and unique as every moment in life.

BISAC: JUVENILE FICTION / Concepts – Opposites / Family – General / Readers – Beginner

The weasel and its child like nothing better than spending time together. And since the weasel kid always wants to do what the big weasel does, everything takes a little longer—but is much more fun! They play and work, dream and cuddle, and fool around. And although the two of them quarrel at times, their love for each other is ever-present! A great book to teach comparing and contrasting, and opposites.
