Lorenzo, a penguin from the South Pole, wants to go to China to find some medicine for his uncle's sore throat. His friend the dragon can fly him there, and the adventure begins. They survive a typhoon, go over the Himalayas, and meet monkeys and pandas. This tale explores the true meaning of friendship and offers a view into a different culture, which may, in turn, arouse a new interest in, and respect for other ways of life. An epic tale for the young.
